

Lise Kay M.D.

Consultant at the PTU, the Danish Society of Polio, Traffic, and Accident Victims.

Lise Kay has graduated as M.D. from Copenhagen University and became a board certified surgeon in 1995 and urologist in 1997. From 1999 she was the director of departments of surgery and urology in Slagelse and Holbæk (Denmark), but had to retire in 2009 because of post polio.

She has done a lot of pre and post graduate teaching and has had posts on national committees concerning medical education and has been a member of the board of The Danish Surgical Society and the board of The Danish Urological Society.

In the scientific field she has had one year of scholarship granted by the Danish National Health Board and has written 37 scientific articles in peer review journals, besides 15 articles on medical education.